

Quarterly review schedule

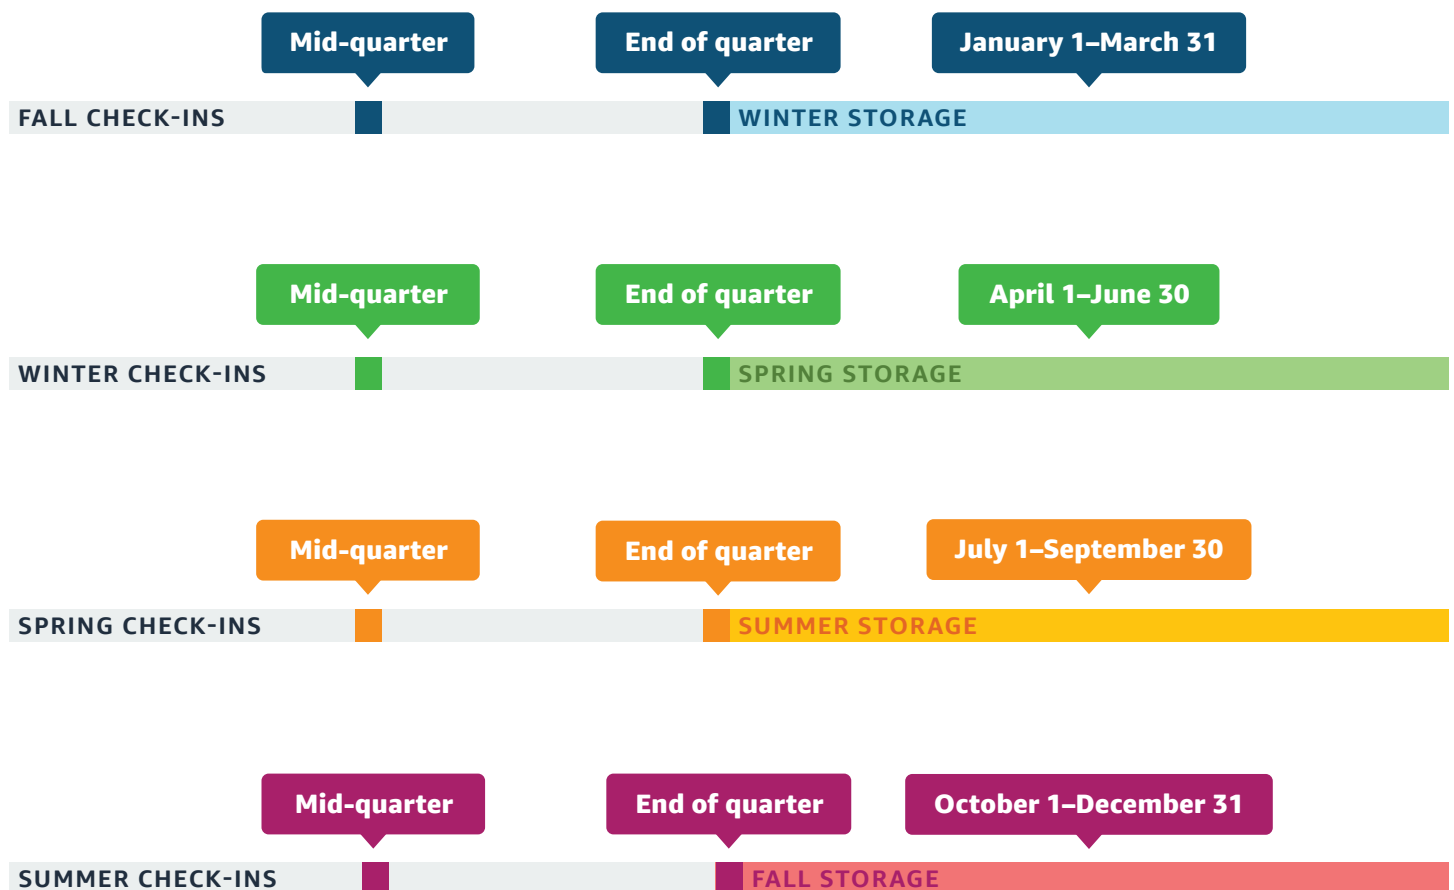

Storage limits update quarterly based on your inventory performance index—an IPI score of 350 or above means you're on track for unlimited storage.

IPI score check-ins

If your score is 350 or above at either check, you'll get unlimited storage when the next quarter starts. If it stays below 350, you may be subject to limited storage and overage fees.

Quarterly storage update

At the start of a new quarter, your storage limits update based on your previous quarter's performance. Limits stay in effect all quarter.

Monthly low-score alerts

If your score is below 350, you'll get a monthly reminder of potential limits and fees in addition to the standard check-ins.