

FAQ

What does Delomo do?

Delomo is a pet hair rolling device that picks up and removes unwanted pet hair from clothing, furniture, carpets, car seats. This pet hair remover is 100% usable so you won't have to continually buy parts for it – no sticky tapes needed. Buy it once and use it over and over again.

Is the Delomo pet hair remover sturdy?

The Delomo pet hair roller is very strong and sturdy and will last an exceptionally ultra-long time. This is a high-quality product that is built to last because we know how stubborn some areas are when it comes to removing pet hair. You deserve the most high-quality products. Thus, we conduct the most rigid product test and examination to ensure the top quality of the products.

What can I use the Delomo pet hair remover on?

You can use it anything that is made of fabric and can collect pet hair. You can use it on pieces of furniture, like couch, bed, or even hat. It's perfect for car seats, clothing, sofas, curtains, mattresses, carpets and anywhere you can think of that has a tendency to attract pet hair.

Do I have to buy extra parts like sticky tapes for it?

The Delomo pet hair remover comes with everything you need. Unlike traditional lint rollers that have sticky tape you continually have to replace, our product does not require you to buy additional parts regularly. This not only makes it more economically friendly, but it also makes it more eco-friendly. Just buy the Delomo roller once and just use it on any surfaces without any future costs.

Do I need a power outlet to use it?

It does not require any outlets or batteries. This makes it easy to use in any area of your home that requires pet hair to be removed. You can use it in your car, have one at your office, and it is a great gift for pet lovers. You can even take it when you are traveling to remove any pet hair or lint.

What makes it better than a lint roller?

When you move the Delomo pet hair remover back and forth, an electrostatic charge is created, helping to lift and draw the hair towards it. Once the Delomo roller captures hair, then the hair is stored in the container/chamber that can easily be disposed of by flipping open the lid and dumping it in the trash.

A lint roller with sticky tape isn't going to have the strength that the electrostatic charge has, and the tape is going to get filled up quicker, causing you to have to continually remove the outer layer. You have to replace the sticky tapes regularly. A lint roller just pales in comparison to the Delomo in ease of use, and ability to grab the most stubborn hair out of your clothing, carpets, sofas and other furniture.
