Exemption sheet for Battery and battery-powered products

What are Dangerous Goods?

A product will be regulated as dangerous good if any of its components are classified as dangerous goods or substances, or are otherwise regulated by any official organization that governs safe transport, storage, or handling of goods.

For more information on dangerous goods, please consult the Dangerous Goods Identification and Management Guide in Vendor Central Resource Centre.

Examples of Dangerous Goods

Important note: This exemption sheet is required and will be accepted only for products that may need batteries to function (even if the batteries are not included with the product or if the product is to be plugged-in) or that are batteries themselves. If your product does not belong to that category but is otherwise regulated as dangerous good or contains chemicals and/or substances (e.g. cleaners, essential oils, paint related products), please provide a Safety Data Sheet (to be obtained from your manufacturer) instead of a battery exemption sheet.
This exemption sheet must be completely filled out before being submitted: all cells in red must be informed, across all 2 pages (move to the right). For complete instructions, please go to the Instructions tab of this Excel file.

Date: 2021/10/4 First name: Zoe Last name: Huang

Disclaimer: By submitting this document to Amazon, you hereby confirm that you have checked the regulations applicable to your product and that the information you provide is correct. In the case of erroneous or incomplete information provided through this exemption sheet, Amazon reserves its right to take the corresponding actions without prior notice. These actions may include but are not limited to: blocked purchase order placement, classification and inbounding delays, and disposal of existing inventory at your expense.

If there is anything else you would like to tell us about your products, please use this box to share comments
