

Warranty Information

Thank you for your interest in Manfrotto. Our products all carry a statutory warranty which assures that the product is fit for use and covered against any manufacturing defects. The duration of the statutory warranty varies according to the applicable law in each country. However, we are so sure that the quality of your Manfrotto product will exceed your expectations that, beginning December 1st, 2010, we've been offering individual purchasers additional limited warranty extensions on some of our products. By simply registering your purchase with us, your product will receive the warranty extension, if applicable. Registration only takes a few moments, and the information you provide will also help us to ensure that our products and services answer the needs you express.

Manfrotto offers a variety of products in different categories to provide you with every solution you need for photo, video, lighting, bags and apparel. Each category of products comes with its own warranty. Choose the category of your product below to view its warranty terms and conditions.
