READ BEFORE SETTING UP

Safe Setup

Out of an abundance of caution, we strongly encourage setting up the net in a designated training space away from people and fragile objects, including having a secondary barrier behind the net. In the rare event that the ball breaks through the net, a secondary barrier such as a fence, garage door, extra netting etc. can help stop the ball and limit damage and/or injury. Never hit with any people behind the net and frequently inspect the netting for wear or damage as repeated hits to the same spot will lead to faster deterioration and potentially net failure. If you use the net frequently, we recommend moving your hitting position in order to spread out the wear of the net. If any holes develop, immediately stop using the net and contact GoSports for a replacement.

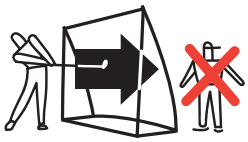

Add-On Reinforcement Net (sold separately)

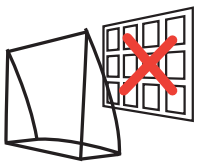

Attention High Swing Speed Golfers

If you are a golfer with a higher swing speed (over 100mph – aka 'hitting bombs'), we recommend using our 'Add-On Reinforcement Net' (sold separately) which easily clips onto the net frame to provide a secondary line of protection. Even with this added protection, we still recommend moving your hitting position to spread out the wear on the net.

7'x7' Golf Practice Net

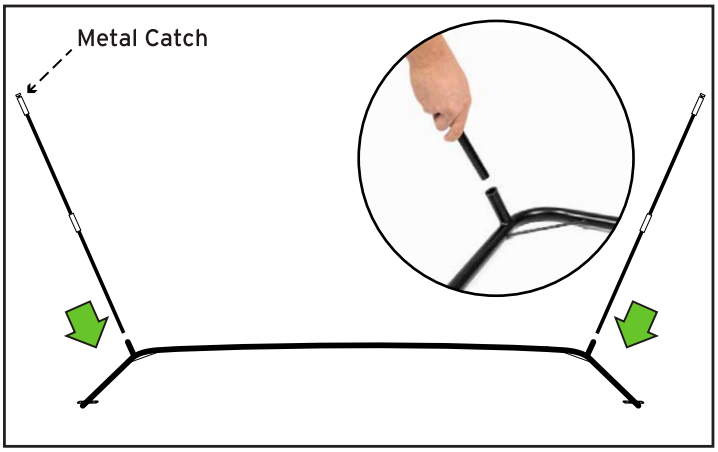

1. Lay net out flat on ground with the attachment panels on the underside of the net

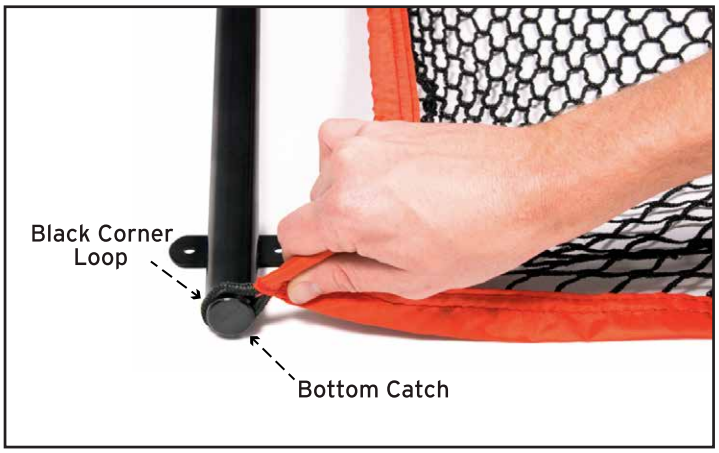

2. Assemble the metal base by connecting 2 Middle Tubes to each Corner Support Bar. Make sure the pins lock together. It is normal for the long section to curve slightly upwards.

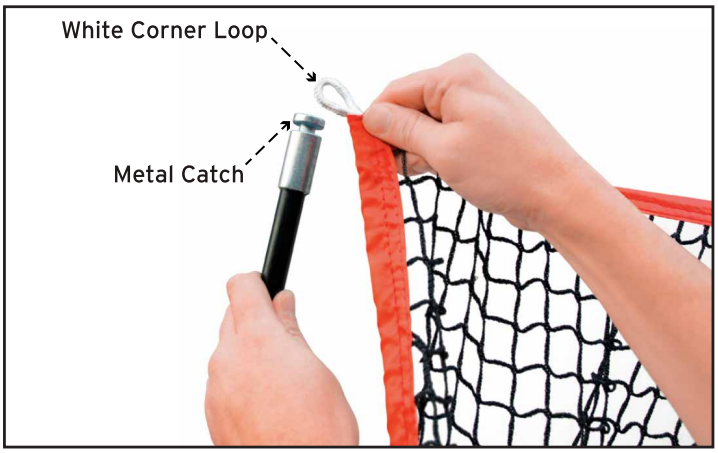

3. Connect each pair of tent poles to create 2 longer tent poles. The top end has a metal catch for the white corner loop. The bottom end slides into the metal base.

4. Insert the Bottom Ends of the tent poles into the metal base. Use your foot to stabilize the base as needed.

5. Attach the Black Corner Loops to the Bottom Catch at the two ends of the metal base. Make sure the loop is completely secured to the bottom catch.

6. Attach White Corner Loops to the Metal Catch at the top of the tent poles. Make sure the loop is completely secured to the tent pole as it will be under tension.
