Let's get started

STEP 1: Connect your streaming player
Plug the USB power cable into your streaming player. We recommend keeping the power cable coiled in the velcro wrap.

STEP 2: Connect to TV

For the best streaming experience, use the included USB power cable and power adaptor to connect your streaming player to a wall outlet.

Or use the included USB power cable to connect to the USB port on your TV.

NOTE:

See a red light on your streaming player?

That means the USB port on your TV is not providing enough power. Use the included power adaptor instead.

STEP 3: Select input

Use your TV remote to power on your TV and select the input (source) you used to connect your streaming player.

STEP 4: Pair your remote

Press and hold the pairing button on your remote for 5 seconds until the status light turns green and starts blinking. Your remote will pair automatically.

STEP 5: Follow the on-screen setup

Follow the instructions on your TV screen. Activate your streaming player by using your computer or smartphone to link to a Roku account.

IMPORTANT:

Roku never charges for activation support.

Charging your remote

- Plug the USB charging cable into your remote and any standard USB power adaptor (like your phone charger).
- The status light will stop blinking once your remote is finished charging.
- You'll see a message on your TV when it's time to charge again.

Common questions

Why do I need to create a Roku account?

You'll need a Roku account to stream, add channels, easily manage subscriptions, rent movies, and more.

Why do I need to enter a credit card?

Saving a payment method makes it easy to rent or buy movies, subscribe to popular channels, and start free trials in just a click. No charges will be made without your authorization.

Can I still give voice commands if I turn off hands-free voice?

Yes you can! Just press and hold the voice button to give a command instead. You don't need to say "Hey Roku" when using push-to-talk voice.
